Internet Explorer 5.0.. of Might & Magic Heroes V (1995) may be.The Department of Defense has proposed a significant increase in the portion of disposable income it expects to spend on health-care services, to $10.9 billion in 2020 from $9.2 billion in 2014, according to an annual report by the Defense Health Agency. As of Sept. 30, it will have obligated $203 billion in 2014, a significant increase from $156 billion in 2013. The increase in outlays comes as an increase in the cost of services and materials is not keeping up with increases in the number of beneficiaries. The agency's report, which is required under the terms of a congressionally approved 10-year defense health-planning effort, said outlays were slightly lower in 2013 than in 2012. The medical-benefits spending increase is attributable to two major factors, the report said: A spike in the number of beneficiaries, to 102.1 million in 2014 from 87.5 million in 2012. A rise in costs of services and materials, primarily for outpatient care, to $48.4 billion in 2013 from $34.1 billion in 2012. The increase in medical benefits outlays came as Defense Health Agency Director Ashton Carter told a Senate panel yesterday that the Defense Department expects to spend about $760 billion over the next 10 years on medical benefits for its 420,000 beneficiaries, adding that about one-half of that amount will cover their lifetime medical costs. "Our medical benefit outlays are growing as beneficiaries enter the workforce," Carter said. "Not all beneficiaries will need all benefits, and we cannot predict how the health-care needs of the country will evolve over the next decade." He said DoD was motivated to set a goal for $10.9 billion in medical spending. "We've set a target that's both a goal and a responsibility," he said. "The [10
